Only Son and Heir apparent of the Right Honourable Robert Earl of Oxford and Earl Mor-

Lord High-Treasurer of Great Britain, and One of Her Ma-

Heraldry and Antiquity may be typically expressed by the Palm-Trees, which thrive not single, or by the Twin-Sisters, History and Chronology, the one being insignificant without the other. Your growing Knowledge in them both, require a more adequate Oblation: Yet your Affection to both will, I hope, pardon my Presumption. And altho' this is but a minute Blaze, you will nevertheless purchase a Consecration thereunto, and please to accept the same. Your Mind, your Condition, and the Subject itself, are Congenial; and this happy Triplicity it is, which hath influenced the present Dedication. Not that I believe you can receive much Improvement hereby, who are Master of that great Magazine of History and Antiquities, preserved in my Lord Treasurer's Library. But that the Collector may have the Honour of your Patronage, which will infallibly screen him from all Pique and Censure. I have Faith in your Will and Power, and therefore with Confidence do subscribe myself, its Production. — I could wish the Barons by Tenure, and the Remainder by Summons, were as regularly done; and it may be hereafter, according to the Success this encounters. — The due marshalling them in Precedency was what Dugdale himself acknowledges difficult, if not impossible, and craves Pardon in his Preface to his Baronage. — And in his Catalogue of Summons to Parliaments, we find Changes, sometimes one, sometimes another Baron has Preference in a different Order; but less Outable by Degrees, yet not altogether so settled, till long after the Reign of King Richard II. — I shall not therefore otherwise than own him; apologize for Defects, only affirm, I have try'd my utmost Skill in it towards a Perfection, and presume for a candid Censure from ingenious Dispositions, my self being ready to be better inform'd, and retract Mistakes.

The Use of Catalogues easily appear by the Sale of Things of this Contexture, that there is no Room to gloss and expatiate. — In short, we extremely want a new and im-improv'd Baronage upon the Foundation and Stock of Dugdale. That what is lately publish'd under the Title, The Peerage of England. The first Part, cannot be an Appendix (was it free from Errors) is visible by this; and the Second is only an Abridgment, in a Manner. I have prepar'd for such an Enterprize: But doubting any single Performance, exhibit this as a Motive for Masters of better Ability and recompensable Leisure. Paraphrase mon- ymo-1-1 And it is born for the View and Satisfaction of those chiefly concerned, who have less Hours for Employment herein. I shall now address my self to the Matter and Method, and be as short as possible. *to Not to enter upon Etymologies and Definitions, a Baron comprehends all the superior Classes, Dukes, Mar- quisses, Earls, and Vicounts, and they are such, although not specified, anciently the greater Title including the less; or, because the Title of Baron in its Infancy was not so purely honorary as at present. Arundel, cum toto honore de Arundel, & tertium denarium de placitis de Suffex unde Comes est. Yet, as it seems, it being his Inheritance before, descended from his Mother, in Parliament, in the Time of the Fitz-Alans, it was adjudged in Henry VI. the Earl should have Place as Possessor of that Castle, without any other Respect. And doubtless it was with Regard to the Barony. And hence, I presume, a younger House (so a while) of the Fitz-Alans, Baron Maltravers in Right of his Wife was affected in Imitation of the Barons by Tenure, that in his Summons in Richard II. he is Arundel (not Fitz-Alan) Baron Maltravers.

Of later Days, after the Reign of King Edward I. the Baronies began to be mentioned, Beauchamp Earl of Warwick, was Baron Beauchamp, Elmley and Plains his ancient Baronies; Mortimer Earl of March. was Baron Mortimer, Wigmore his ancient Barony; Holland Earl of Kent was Baron Wake of Liddell by Descent.

The Custom of making a Peer of a superiour Degree a Baron of some Place began about King Henry VIII.'s Time, and has been followed with a few few Exceptions, and that especially where the Creations were in Women and for Life. The most remarkable infringing the Practice, is that of the Viscountess Maidstone, afterwards Countess of Winchelsea, temp. Jac. I. where the Remainders of those Honours were to her Male Posterity; who, tho' so entituled, had no nominal Barony till the Patent of Baron Fitzherbert was obtain'd temp. Car. II.

Of Barons there were Three sorts: 1. Capital, holding of the King in Capite; 2. Mesne, holding by Mesnalty of the other, both Parliamentary, if possessed of Thirteen Knights Fees and a third Part; And 3. Lords of Mannors, but not of so large Possession and Revenues, such as may be anciently every Lord of a Mannor, whence the Title of Court-Baron; and with whom we have nothing to do here.

Of these Baronies in chief, King Henry III. in his Devotions at St. Albans, reckon'd Two Hundred and Fifty, Nominavit, saith Math. Paris, Dominus Rex & numeravit omnes Anglie quorum ei occurrit memoria Baronibus inveniuntur, ducentas & quinquaginta.

As

As Parliamentary Barons, they are distinguish'd also into Three Kinds; 1. By Tenure; 2. By Writ of Summons to Parliament; And 3. by Patent.

1. Till the 49th of Henry III. Baronies were all by Tenure, and the local Names of the Baronies were as the Titles of Honour; for they held per Baroniam by their Possession; in so much that in some, the Places conferred the Surname. The House of Nevil, the Saxon Descendants of Fitz-Maldred, and afterwards called Nevill, from an Heir-Female of Norman Race with whom they intermarried, were Barons Raby of Raby Castle, Stafford first in Stafford, then in Bagot, who married likewise with the Heir-Female, and procured the Surname of Stafford to his principal Progeny, both were Barons Stafford of Stafford-Castle. The House of Berkley [de Dursley] and Berkley, lineal Descendants of Fitz-Harding, of the Blood Royal of Denmark, who married a Daughter of the Berkleys [de Dursley] whence that Name, both were Barons Berkley of Berkley-Castle. Wipont Baron Westmorland of Westmorland and Castellan of Appleby-Castle. Bertram Baron
Bo-

Bothal of Bothal. Lucy, Baron Pontefract of Pontefract. Somers Baron Dudley of Dudley, &c. Let the Appellative Discrimination of Raby Castle, Stafford Castle, &c. be omitted as needless, it was expressed or understood in the Title it self. And as for Castles, such their Mansions were which were the Heads of their Bargnies, adequate to their Grandeur and Convenience, and fortified with Mores, &c. according to the Humour and Circumstances of the Age. A Thing not permitted after the Summoning of Barons commenced, unless by Licence; and so we often find, after Henry III. Grants to peculiar Favourites. Crenellare (the old Word Kernellare) domum to imbattle, i. e. to castellate. For these Structures were esteemed, before the dilated Invention of Gun-powder, of sufficient Defence. And the too frequent Practice thereof, without Restraint, might occasion again, through Supinity, like Troubles as were the Barons Wars, which harassed the Kingdom, and in a Manner overturned the Nature of these Baronies by Tenure, generally altering tering their Constitution, and as it were their Titles, ^{most to be desired} Some indeed remained; As at this Day the Ecclesiastick Baronies of our Bishops; and the Temporal, the Barony of Arundel, included in the Earldom; And those more properly to be termed Feudal Honours; because the Tenure is not regarded with exactness of Point. For Instance Bergavenny, a Barony by Tenure, in the Families or Houses of Beaulun, Fitz-Count, Brasoe Baron of Brember Castle, Earls of Hereford and Cantelupe, all before the Death of King Henry III. it remained afterwards a Barony, denominating as heretofore, in Hastings, Beauchamp, and Nevill; And the Heir Female of the last being married to Fane, in her Right he contested for that Barony and Title as by Tenure. However, 22 Jac. I. to please and pacifie both Candidates, the King continued the Title in Nevill, a collateral, but chief Heir Male of the deceased Baron Bergavenny, and created Fane Baron Burghersh and Earl of Westmorland. And can we call now Bergavenny the Barony of Nevill, a Barony by Tenure, without the Possession? When

The Introduction

Berkley Castle was in the Crown, in strictness of Idiom, where was the Barony by Tenure, to Berkley Baron Berkley temp. Hen. VIII. And when Sutton Baron Dudley, of Dudley Castle, by Tenure, was choused of that part of his Inheritance by the Earl of Northumberland, temp. Eliz. where was the Barony by Tenure? Why has Lord of Heleigh been formerly inserted among the Titles of the Barons Wharton? It was with an Eye that way, and to countenance Heleigh, as a Barony by Tenure, and so it was. Tho' since Henry III. in Audley, viz. temp. Edm. I. and afterwards by Descent in Touchet, as Heir General, under the Title of Baron Audley (of Heleigh) in reference to which, and of altering the Titles in the next Head under the second sort of Barons, viz. Barons by Writ of Summons.

The old Baronies by Tenure, that did not remain such, or are now construed not to remain as such, give the Titles of Lord to their Possessors, as Lord of the Honours of Petworth and Cockermouth, to the Duke of Somerset; they being anciently, to wit, before Edward I. Titles themselves in Percy

Percy and Lucy, who were afterwards Barons Percy and Lucy; and the Possessions retain the Name of Honours in some Parts to this Day, as the Honours of Pontefract and Hastings, anciently the Titles and Baronies of Lacey and D'auco or Ewe.

The old Barony of Dilston, in the North, possessed by a Junior Vaux, and his Barony, temp. Will. II. is of the same Stamp; and the Ratcliffs, now Lords of that Honour, tho' by Corruption commonly call'd Barons of Dilston, till that Title sunk in the real Title of Baron Ratcliff of Tindale and Earl of Derwentwater. What shall I say of Hilton-Castle, conceding it a Barony by Tenure, whose Lord was summoned, temp. Edward I. as Baron Hilton of Hilton, and that but for a while, and not Hereditary; But that instead of Lord of the Honour of Hilton, the present Possessor thereof is but, through a like Impropriety of Speech, called Baron of Hilton.

2. In the 49th of Hen. III. is the oldest Summons of Parliament upon Record. There were Statutes and Parliaments of elder Times, witness the grand Charter 17 Job, and that of Merton 20 Hen. III. but to omit the Saxons, Wittenagmots or Michel Synods, (foreign here) and the Parliaments held in Hen. I. and II. where of our Historians. And to these Parliaments, so many Barons as would, (understand here all the greater Nobility) after Notice of the King's Purpose, came, and sat with him.

But in that Year, Monfort the Catlinary Earl of Leicester and Baron of Hinkley, in the King's counterfeited Name, having convoked an Assembly of the Rebel Barons and others of his Side, and proved dangerous to the Crown. From his Example Wterwards, as Honey out of Poyson, the wise King Edward I. consulted none upon the weighty Affairs of the Nation, except, whom he had assembled in Parliament by a Writ of Summons directed to them, and such in whom he could confide: And thus he cut off the antique and spontaneous Access of the Barons to those grand Councils, disfranchised many of the Old, who had been His and his Father's Enemies, and intitled His and his Father's Friends, de Novo, or made new new Barons, ¹⁶ Henry Earl of Derby lost his Barony of Tisbury & Sackville (a Progenitor of the Earls of Deser) his etc. Others published by confiscating their Estates, or pecuniary Molests, to their utter Ruine. willsw villsw In these new Parliamentary Barons, a Tenure per Baroniam was respected: And perhaps till the Form of Creating by Patent came in Fashion, none were (or very few) call'd to Parliament, but such as held per Baroniam, or en Baronie, per was it not hereditary, but personal, et in hereditatem Rege. The Father was summoned, and the Son and Heir sometimes not.

One and no more in the lineal Descent of a Family, or more in the same Family, but collaterally then again in Relation to Time, more or less often; That is, in one, two, or three Parliaments, or during the Series of a whole Reign, or more, that, I believe, it introduced the word Temporal, Has: used in Epistles to our Lay Barons.
But in Process of Years, Honours growing less officious, after their Adds in the Wars of King Edward III. and more in Reward of Merit or Fa-your,

vour, a Patent for a Barony came in Use, to make Amends for the past Services, and Expence of a faithful Subject, and supplied the Defects of a Barony by Tenure, which were continually swallowed up in greater Titles, and eclipsed by its own Scarcity. Besides, the primitive End of these Tenures, clip'd by Montfort's Rebellion, began more to be impaired, and less considered, by Reason of the Hostility in the approaching Civil Wars, and the Necessity of State to reward and procure Partisans and Clients of their Cause.

And this Barony being usually Hereditary to them and their Heirs Males, (Baronies being in its Original unfit for the weaker Sex) or with Limitations at the Pleasure and Will of the Sovereign; The Baronies by Summons became likewise so through Custom, and rivited by an insensible Sympathy. And for their Prerogative of Geniture; Heirs Male and Female, and their Descendants, claim them upon the rational Support, or real Ground of their being first summoned en Baronie. Wherefore the Titles in such original Summons, mons, are still preserved by their Posterity; Nay, often the Heirs Male in a collateral Line have been advanced thereby.

I shall only mention here one Example for both. It is the Case of Fines and Dacre: Fines of Herstmonceuse having taken to Wife the Heir of Dacre Baron Dacre of Dacre, enjoyed the Title of Baron Dacre by Descent, temp. Hen. VI. originally by Writ of Summons in Dacre, 14. Edward II. or by Barony, 28 Edward I. and Fines was adjudged and declared so by Patent 37 Hen. VI. But concerning this a long Dispute happen'd, which was finally concluded in Content of both. Fines preserved his Title, and Dacre his Opponent, then the chief Heir Male of that Family, was adjudged and declared also Baron Dacre, by Patent 13 Edward IV. with Place in Parliament next Fines, and for Distinction had the Adjunction of an old denominating Barony, being call'd Baron Dacre (of Gilstand) and 21 Hen. VIII. Baron Dacre of Dacre and Greystock, and 1 Edward VI. Baron Dacre of Dacre and Gilstand. Fines had the Appellative Baron Dacre, and

and 31. Hen. VIII. Baron De la Mare of the South (Gosland being in the North) which Title descended to his Heir general Lennard, farther diversified and called Baron De la Mare of Hensmon-chaux, enjoying the Baronie of De la Mare of the South by Descent and Writ of Summons to the Parliament, 1. Jac. I. as his Mother, (the Sister and Heir of the last Baron De la Mare) was adjudged and declared Baronesse before him 2. Jac. I. whence the Earl of Sassers.

And this reminds me of what I spoke on before of altering of Titles, which is not practised in Barons by Descent; the exact Beginning whereof cannot certainly be determined, depending on the Summoning. However, as the Baronies, by Writ of Summons, became established and hereditary, so was the Title fixt and hereditary; because since the Decay of Tenure Baronies, these Titles by Summons are perpetual Ratifications of their Descent, to ascertain their Precedency and other Prerogatives.

Yet at the first Institution or Initiation of the Writs of Summons sub Edward I. when the Barons were only only personal or gentilicial: The Writs being directed Personis & non Locis. The Titles were in a precarious and variable Position, with Submission for so expressing my self, if the Barons had any Titles of Barons as wholly Dignities in the modern Acceptation, for it was then their Revenues and Possessions, stipulated with Conditions, gave the Name, or made them Barons, as retained now by the Bishops.

To be plain, after the 40 Hen. III. Did a Baron heretofore by Tenure, receive a Summons to Parliament? Was his Barony continued, which might be judged a feudal Honour, as did Mowbray Baron of Axholme; or proleptically speaking, Baron Axholme of Axholme; Mortimer Baron Wigmore of Wigmore; Ross Baron Hamlake of Hamlake; Beke Baron Eresby of Eresby. The Names of the Possessors, and not Possessions, being taken as the Titles; So Baron Mowbray de Mowbray is one of the Titles of his Grace the Duke of Norfolk by Descent, and Summons, and not Baron Mowbray de Axholm. Thus Audley Baron Heleigh of Heleigh-Castle, temp. Hen. III. This Baron being summoned sub Ed- para. I. en. Baronie, or per Baroniam, and the Writ directed Johanni or Thoma de Audley; the Title became thenceforward Baron Audley, which Toucher Earl of Castelhaven now enjoys, being Baron Audley of Heleigh by Descent and Summons originally in his Ancestors.

Thus Ross Baron Hamlake, or de Hamlake by Tenure, first in Essex and after in Ross by Marriage, and both before the Innovation of any Writ of Summons, Ross the Possessor being summoned, in regard of his Barony, Johanni or Thoma de Ross, the Barony was personal, viz. Ross, and not local; the Revenues, viz. Hamlake, and the Adjunct of Hamlake, as Johanni or Thoma de Ross (de Hamlake) was but used to shew the Foundation of the Barony, and continued for Distinction sake to other Baronies of the same Sirname, Ross of Werk, Ross of Ingmanthorp, and Ross of Kendal; of which, i. Ross (of Werk) was of like kind; for Werk was as a Title temp. Hen. III. but another Ross, (a younger House of that of Hamlake) the Possessor, being summoned, temp. Edw. I. the Title was Ross and Werk, only the ad-

adjunct distinguishing, as used by Grey, temp. Jac. I. 2. Ross (of Ingmanthorp) was a Baron de Novo by Summons, Ross the Title, and Ingmanthorp the Adjunct, no Part thereof otherwise. 3. Ross (of Kendal) Kendal was the Barony and Title of Ivo, Lineal Ancestor to the Lancasters, temp. Willelm. I. but Ross not being ever summoned, who enjoy'd the Possession after Henry III's Time, that Barony was but superficial and not solid, and the Title lay Dormant till 30 Henry VIII. who revived it again as an Adjunct in Parr, descended from Ross of Kendal, by a Female Heir of that Family, creating him Baron Parr (of Kendal). To return, the Heir of Ross (of Hamlake) being married to Maners. That Barony or Ross is now enjoy'd by the Duke of Rutland, by Descent and Summons originally in his Ancestors.

Lastly, Beke Baron Eresby, another ancient Baron, by Tenure, having been summoned temp. Edu. I. His Title was Baron Beke, and not Eresby. And Wiltoughby being Heir general of Beke, in right of his Wife, and possessing Eresby, was summoned

The Introduction.

Baron Willoughby of Eresby, Eresby no Part of the Title, assumed only as a corroborating Proof of the Cause of the Barony, and used discriminatively in futuro. This Barony, or Title afterwards by Descent and Summons in Welles, and jointly with Welles, in Hastings; is now by the same Vicissitude derived on the Marquis of Lindsey, whose lineal Ancestor Bartie, by Virtue of Descent, was summoned Baron Willoughby (of Eresby) temp. Eliz.

1387 - - 1387

1. The Third Sort of Barons were by Patent, which began 11 Rich. II. The first being Beauchamp of Holt, who was made Baron Beauchamp of Kildermister: Which Kildermister, the Adjunct was anciently a Barony by Tenure, and possess'd by Biset, temp. Hen. I.

But of these last Barons interspersedly in the former Head. It may be observed here however, that many of the old Baronies by Tenure, have since been Adjuncts to new Baronies by Patent: Also Titles of Baronies by Patent. Beaufort, Weston, Shobford, Wempe, Bolsover, Basing, Ickworth, Okehampton, Gillingham, Hampstead, Brighthelm, Hornby, Kyme, Okeham, Groby, Tor-

Torbay, Braibroc, Greystock, Waltham, Cokermonth, &c. The old Tenure Baronies of the several Houses of Montfort, Carmeiles, Hanselyn with Bardolf his Heir general; Pantulf, Beuerak, Port, Blont, Rivers Earl of Devon, Vaux, Marshal Earl of Pembroke, Butler, and afterwards of Nevill, Baron of Raby, Montbegan, Kyme, Ferrers, Quincy, Brimer, Braibroc; the House of Greystock, Clare and Meschines, afterwards in Lucy, and Lucy alias Mutton, are the Adjuncts of the Barons Ragis, Butler, Spanhope, Jeffreys, Cavendish, Paulet, Hartvey, Mohun, Dacre afterwards of Howard, Earl of Carlile, Craven, Curs, Conyers, Tailbois, Cromwell, Grey, Herbert, Griffin, Dacre, Denny and Percy.

Among the old Baronies by Tenure renewed by Patent, so as they are or were modern Titles; you have Sudley, Kimbolton, Kensington, Pontefract, Bothal, Hedington, Egremont, Rougemont, and Lexington. The old Baronies of Sudley, Mandaville, Vere, Lacey, Bertram, Bassett, Maschines and others, Lisle and Lexington; and now, or of later Age, of Botiler, Montagu, Rich, Fitz-Roy, Cavendish, Beauchair, Percy, Grey, and Sutton.

Other

Other Lords or Barons there are such as are the Sons and Heirs apparent of Vicounts and Earls; but this is only a piece of Courtesie, and meer Fashion, and allowed in Heraldry upon Tiroft's Rule, (Earl of Worcester, and Earl Marshal sub Hen. VI.) is, that the eldest Son of every One of a created Degree, is of the next Degree under him; which may be applied to Dukes, Marquisses, and the rest. But in legal Proceedings it is not so, nor have they, by being Heirs apparent, any Privilege of the Nobiles Majores; so Henry Earl of Surrey, Son to the Duke of Norfolk, was attainted of Treason by a Common Jury, and not by Barons.

It may happen as frequently the Heir apparent may be summoned to Parliament in his Father's Life Time, then is he a true Baron, and takes Precedency according to the Barony in his Father, whose Title he uses without any Reason to the contrary. But of such, no Notice is taken here, (unless in Bullen de Rochford, temp. Hen. VIII.) Because their Title and Place is as their Fathers Barony, and with that Precedency. Indeed if the Heir be summoned by a new Title, as Manners, Baron Manners of Haddon, 21 Car. II. and Howard Baron Mowbray 17 Car. II. and the first in that Family that ever had that Title by Summons: or, if the Heir has a foreign Title peculiar in himself, as Ossern Vicount Dunblain in Scotland, Son and Heir to the Duke of Leeds. To notify these I held necessary.

Heir

What else concern Barons in all its Species, Dukes, Marquisses, Earls, Vicounts, and Barons simply such, I refer to the Learned Selden and others, to avoid Tautologies, and lest I make my Porch too big, as the Citizens of Myndus did their Gates for their small City, who were advis'd to shut them, that it ran not out; I shall come to the Method.

And this requires not much more than to explain what is signified by the Symbols and Signatures, which are Six, viz. = || § * * [4] respecting the past; And Six, viz. R B & 2. @ & respecting the future; And Two, viz. † [1] of a middle Nature, which are placed in these Cases.

Where

Where the Family enobled has been the Name of a Person, or some lineal Ancestor of the same Family, who had a Barony by Tenure, ante Edw. I. So Byron Baron Byron of Rochdale, and Noell Baron Noell of Ridlington and of Titchfield, have the Cypher; For there was Baran or Byron his Ancestor, Baron Horsley of Horsley, temp. Will. I. and Noell Baron Ellenhall of Ellenhall, ante Hen. III. a Lordship now, or late, by Descent of Inheritance, in the Possession of the ancient Family of Harcourt, which I have seen intitled Barons of Ellenhall: Thus the Butlers, Butler Baron Butler of Lanthony, and those of Weston, because their Ancestor Walter held a Barony, temp. Hen. II.

Where the Title enobling has been the Name of a Person who had a Barony by Tenure, ante Edw. I. Thus Leke Baron Deincourt of Sutton, and Widvill Baron Rivers; For Deincourt was Baron Blankney of Blankney, temp. Will. I. and one Rivers Baron Angre of Angre in Essex, temp. Rich. I. besides the Rivers Earl of Devonshire.

Some-

Sometimes it happens to be a collateral Ancestor; as Bromflet was Baron Vesci de Vesci, whose Baronies were Malton and Alnwick, temp. Will. I. Bruges Baron Chandos, from Chandos Baron Snodhull of Snodhull, temp. Will. I. Although there was a Chandos, a more immediate Ancestor, who was a Baron by Writ: And sometimes it has been in a direct Line; as Scrope Baron Scrope of Masbam; and Finch Baron Fitzherbert of Eastwell: Scrope being descended from Scrope Baron Bolton of Bolton, temp. Hen. II. whence, till of late Years, those Barons Scrope of Bolton; and Finch from the House of Fitzherbert Baron of Blanloveny, temp. Hen. I. but called Finch from their Mannor of Finches in Kent.

§ Where the Adjunct to a Barony was it self a Title by Tenure, before Edward. I. as Parr Baron Parr of Kendal; Harvey Baron Harvey of Ickworth; Griffin Baron Griffin of Braybrook; and Harley Baron Harley of Wigmore; which Adjuncts of Kendal, Ickworth, Braybrook, and Wigmore, were as the denominating Titles of Lancaster, Blunt, Mortimer, all temp. Will.

*Will. I. and of Braybrook temp.
Ric. I.*

* Where the Adjunct to a Barony was a Title by Tenure, before Edm. I. but converted into a familicial or personal Title by Summons, and possessed by another by Descent, as Heleigh in Audley; Eresby in Bake; Dunmore in Fitzwater; Cnockyn in Strange; and Basing in St. John; Which came by Descent to Touchet, thence called Baron Audley of Heleigh; Willoughby called Baron Willoughby of Eresby; Ratcliff Baron Fitzwater, and after him Milamay, Stanley, Baron Strange of Cnockyn, and by Patent with regard ancestral from St. John Baron St. John of Basing to Paulet.

* Where the Title and Adjunct was, or is the same with a Barony by Tenure before Edm. I. the Adjunct either expressed or intimated, as Bergavenny, Berkley, Stafford, Dudley, Hoo, Rougemont, Egremont, Montagu, and Raby; For Bergavenny was the Barony of Baalun, and others before Hen. III. Berkley of Berkley, and Stafford, both temp. Will. I. Dudley of Fitz- ausculph

ausculph; Paganel and Someri, all before Edw. I. Hoo of Bardolph, temp. Hen. II. Rougemont of Lisle, temp. Joh. Egremont of Meschines, Lucy and Multon, all before Edw. I. Montacute, or Montaigu of Montacute, temp. Hen. II. and Raby of the Nevill-House, temp. Will. I. altho' Raby, as some others, were converted into personal Titles; For Nevil, after the summoning, temp. Edw. I. being then Baron Nevill of Raby, he is not to be accepted as before, viz. Baron Raby of Raby; And notwithstanding he was yet, and so called, Dominus de Raby, as Proprietor, or Lord of that Place. He was also Dominus Nevill de Raby, Baron Nevill de Raby: Whence I conjecture the after-Distinction of Baron and Lord; every Baron is a Lord, but every Lord not a Baron.

[a] After this Manner any of the Letters inclos'd; a, b, c, d, e, f, g, h, denotes an Increment of Honours under the same Title, since Hen. III. according to the numbred Place in the Order of the Alphabet: Thus there were Nine Barons Howard, and variously distinguished by their Adjuncts; namely, Howard Baron Howard de Howard, whence the Duke of Norfolk; Howard Baron Howard of Effingham, of Bindon, of Walden, of Marhill, of Escrig, of Charleton, of Castle-Rising, and of Chesterford; not but that there were other Barons who were Howards by Family, but not Title: Howard Baron Stafford; Howard Baron Mowbray; and Howard Baron Dacre of Gilsland. Seven Barons Beauchamp; namely, Beauchamp of Kidderminster, Beauchamp of Powick, Seymour Baron Beauchamp of Hatch, and Monk Baron Beauchamp de Beauchamp. And Kidderminster being mark'd [d] argues him the fourth Kind of the Baron Beauchamps; the other Three being prior Titles, Beauchamp of Elmley, Earl of Warwick; Beauchamp Brother to an Earl of Warwick, summon'd 24 Edw. III. and Beauchamp Baron of Bletsbo, by Summons 38 Edw. III. all before the 11 Rich. II. and since King Henry III. and therefore not cognizable here: There were Two other Beauchamps Baron of Bergavenny and St. Amand, but Bergavenny and St. Amand being their Titles, they are not counted. Five or

Six

Six Montagues, 4 Herberts, 2 Hydes, 2 Capells, 3 Dudleys, &c.

[1] The Figures denote a Gemination of such a Barony since Hen. III. jointly in the same Name, and Adjunct, was it enjoyed by another of the same Family, de Novo, or in another, by Descent or by Patent: For Example: Two Barons Dacre of Gilsland, One in Dacre temp. Edw. IV. the other in Howard temp. Car. II. Three Greys of Ruthyn; the First in Grey, the Second in Longueville, the Third in Telverton: And Longueville having the [2] indicates the first in Grey, to be before 11 Rich. II. not being in the Catalogue; Two Willoughbies of Brook; Two Lumleys, Cholmleys, Cravens, Conmays, Butlers of Weston, and Herberts of Cherburgh, &c.

R. Intimates a Barony restored or recogniz'd in the same Name and Family with Precedency; as Darcy.

R. A Barony restor'd in another Name and Family which is by Descent, with Precedency; as Mildmay.

h A Barony possessed by another of the same Name and Family, upon Extinction of the former, but without Precedency; as Brook Baron Cobham, Herbert Baron Herbert of Cherburgh, &c y A Barony possessed by another of the same Name and Family, by Virtue of Entail; as Craven Baron Craven; Wentworth Baron Raby, &c.

© A Barony possessed by another of different Name and Family, by Virtue of Entail; as Noel Baron Hicks of Ilmington; Duras Baron Sonds of Thoroughley, &c.

g A Barony possessed by another of different Name and Family, either by Pretext of Blood and Affinity, or otherwise, but so as reputed new Barons. Howard Baron Dacres of Gilsland; Sackvill Baron Cranfield, having Precedency, according to their Creations.

† Where a Title is, as the Law expresses it, in Briga, dubious, or under At-

Attainder; as Knollys Baron Knollys, &c.
Fitz-James Baron Bosworth, &c. and Griffin Baron Griffin.

As to their Precedency, it is according to the Seniority of their Creations, in their several Series; save that a Cause was took in Parliament, 31 Hen. VIII. for placing those above the rest, and next the Blood Royal, which were entrusted with the greatest Offices of State and Court; viz. Next above all Dukes, The Lord High-Chancellour, or Lord Keeper, Lord High Treasurer, Lord President of the Council, and Lord Privy Seal. And next Marquisses, and before all Earls, Lord High Constable, Lord High Chamberlain, Earl Marshal, Lord High Admiral, Lord Marshal, together with the Lord Steward of the Household, and Lord Chamberlain of the same: Which Manner of Precedency, being it relates to the Persons, and not to their Titles, varieth and changeth with the Times, according as they are in Trust and Favour with their Sovereign.

If at one and the same Time, any superiour Title was conferred upon a Baron, Vicount, Earl, or Marquiss, then is the copulative Particle & prefix'd; and if in his own Person, with any intervenient Space of Time, then is Idem adjoin'd; but if in their Issue or distant Progeny, then is the greater Dignity enclosed in a Crotchet []

Where a new Honour has been in a Cadet, or collateral Branch of any Noble House, and that Line arriv'd afterwards to the Dignities of the Elder, it is coalesced; that Title being then conjoin'd with the other, and following the same, according to its Date and Original; as in Seymour Baron Seymour of Tronbridge, who came afterwards to enjoy all the Titles of the elder House, the Duke of Somerset; So Herbert Baron Herbert of Shurland and Earl of Montgomeri, inherited the Earldom of Pembroke, Barony Herbert of Cardiff, &c.

If the Heir apparent in a direct Line received a Barony, and he afterwards succeeded to the Honours of his Ancestors; as did Sackvill Baron Cranfield; Russel Baron Houland: One to the Earldom of Dorset, and Barony rony of Buckhurst; the other to the Dukedom of Beauford, and to the Baronies of Ruffel of Tavisstock, or Cheneys, and Ruffel of Thornhaugh; by this, I mean imprinted or involved.

The Extinctions of a Title in a Family are mark'd Est.

To collect their Titles. Since the Baron is the Basis and Foundation, Enter that Head, and having found the Name of the Family, you have the fundamental Title of their Honours, against it, the Nature and Date. And then, if any, the next Superiour, with which enter that Head, and you have the next Superiour, till you behold him in his Lynd, if he had any foreign Titles before, the Chief of them, is next his paternal Name; Thus Churchill is written Baron Churchill of Aamouth in Scotland, being an Honour conferred before he received any Englisch Dignity. The Words coalesced and immersed discover the Titles that accrue after.

This holds in all, except in Sons of the Blood, who are born Barons; and therefore, if their Title of Baron is not specified to them, I have avoided to insert their Names and greater
F Titles

Titles in that inferior Class, with the Expression of including Barons. the Duke of Among the many Objections, the lazy Drone and precipitate Envois may raise, I conceive, the most poignant; Why have I mentioned some extraneous Dignities, as Duke of Touraine, Earl of Botagne, &c. For Answer, consider the Patent of the Marquis of Dublin: The Form of Words was,
 "Confirmamus ipsam Marchionem de pro- "dictis Titulo Nomine & Honore, per "regali cincturam, & circumscriptis suo
 "capiti impositionem munitis investimus,
 "illam Chartam tradidit, & cum valis hi-
 "lari inter Rores Parliamenti in gradu
 "figellari, videlicet inter Duces & Comi- "tes sedere mandavit." And why may not the other exotic Honours acquire Place accordingly? if not, the Paucity makes it pardonable. In English Barons they were allowed to be as much as Umfraville Earl of Angus in Scotland, who was summoned nevertheless by that Title to our Parliaments. His Barony in England was Prudhon-Castle by Tenure, whence proceeded his Right of Place in our great Assemblies. But had his Creation or Investiture of Earl been from any any English King; he had not elapsed my Notice as such: And as a Baron by Tenure, and before Rich. II. he is not within my Verge.

I hope I am not culpable for the Norman Titles of Earl of Carboile, Thorigny, and Granville, given to the House of Bath, temp. Car. II. Earl of Tankerville, to Grey of Werk, and Vicount Barfleur to the House of Russel, temp. Will. III. The like Reason, the like Law. We have the Titles of Duke of Ormond and Duke Schomberg naturaliz'd, Vicount Longueville, &c. But I have not Place or Time here for Disquisitions; therefore shall conclude with my hearty Anhelations, that Heralds (heretofore Sacrosanct) and their Science, might be better regarded, and the Nobility themselves less credulous and prone to encourage pretending Interlopers, whether Mechanicks or others:

Yours in all Humility, &c.

any English King, he had not elapsed my Notice as such. And as a Baron by 300, and before King II. he is not within my Verge.
 I hope I am not culpable for the Norman Titles of Earl of Carbois, Thurgny, and Gramville, given to the House of Bar, temp. Car. II. Earl of Tankerville, to Guy of Mort, and Vi-count Baxham to the House of Russell, temp. Will. III. The like Reason, the like Law. We have the Titles of Duke of Ormond and Duke Schomberg naturaliz'd, Viscount Longueville, &c.
 But I have not Place of Time here for Distinctions, therefore shall conclude with my hearty Assurances, that Heralds, Historians, &c. (and and their Science, might be better regarded, and the Nobility themselves less credulous and prone to encourage pretending Intriguers, whether Mechanics or others.

There is all Humility, &c.
